

Array Functions

When you work with an array data type a number of functions can be applied to that data type

ArrayLen: Returns the length of the array

Compress Array: Moves all the non empty elements to beginning of the array

Copy Array: Copies an array into new one, or sub array into new array